Answers to your HSA questions

What is a Health Savings Account?

A Health Savings Account (HSA) is a tax-exempt trust or custodial account established exclusively for the purpose of paying qualified medical expenses of you and your family.

Am I eligible for a HSA?

You are eligible to make or receive a HSA regular contribution if, with respect to any month, you:

- Are covered under a high-deductible health plan (HDHP);
- Are not covered by other health insurance (does not apply to specific injury insurance and accident, disability, dental care, vision care, long-term care);
- Are not entitled to benefits under Medicare, and;
- May not be claimed as a dependent on another individual's tax return.

What is a HDHP?

A HDHP is a plan with an annual deductible of at least $1,500 for individual coverage or $3,000 for family coverage. These amounts are subject to cost-of-living adjustments (COLAs).

Are there other requirements for the HDHP?

Yes. For HSA purposes, the HDHP must limit out-of-pocket expenses. The maximum out-of-pocket expenses, which include money applied to your deductible and your coinsurance for covered charges, must be no more than $7,500 for individual coverage and no more than $15,000 for family coverage. These amounts are subject to COLAs.

Qualified Medical Expenses - Effective 2020:

- Over-the-counter drugs without a prescription and medical TeleVisits are now qualified "tax-free" medical expenses.
- Penalty for non-qualified medical expense withdrawals increased to 20%.

For more information regarding qualified medical expenses and other tax-related questions, see IRS Publication 969 and IRS Publication 502 at irs.gov or contact your tax professional.

Who can contribute to my HSA?

If you meet the eligibility requirements for a HSA, you, your employer and your family members may contribute to your HSA. This is true whether you are self-employed or unemployed.

How much can I contribute to my HSA?

The maximum annual contribution amount is generally the lesser of 100 percent of the annual deductible under the HDHP or a specified amount (subject to COLAs).

CONTRIBUTION LIMITS

Year	Contribution Limit Under Age 55 Single Coverage	Contribution Limit Under Age 55 Family Coverage	Additional "Catch Up" Contribution Age 55 & Over
2022	$3,650.00	$7,300.00	$1,000.00
2023	$3,850.00	$7,750.00	$1,000.00

What are the federal tax benefits of a HSA?

Contributions to a HSA are fully deductible, the earnings grow tax deferred and distributions for qualified medical expenses are tax free. Consult with your tax or legal professional for guidance.

When is the contribution deadline for funding a HSA?

Regular and catch-up HSA contributions can be made at any time for a taxable year up to and including your federal income tax return due date, excluding extensions, for that taxable year. The due date for most taxpayers is April 15 (or IRS tax deadline date).
